

PKI Hardware Schedule

If Entrust Datacard provides any Hardware to Customer in connection with any Offering, and no separate set of terms was provided, the Agreement for Hardware is made up of this Schedule, the Entrust Datacard Products and Services General Terms and Conditions (“General Terms”) and an Order that includes Hardware. Capitalized terms not defined herein have the meanings given to them in the General Terms.

Customer will be responsible for all freight, packing, insurance and other shipping-related expenses with respect to any Hardware. Risk of loss and title to the Hardware will pass to Customer upon delivery of the Hardware by Entrust Datacard or one of its agents to the carrier. Except as may otherwise be expressly provided in an applicable Schedule, Entrust Datacard does not make any representations or provide any warranties or conditions in respect to Hardware. To the extent that Entrust Datacard can pass through any Hardware manufacturer’s warranty to Customer, Entrust Datacard will do so. If Customer purchased the Hardware from Entrust Datacard, Customer will use Entrust Datacard as Customer’s point of contact for Hardware warranty inquiries. Customer will not contact the Hardware manufacturer directly. Customer will be responsible for all shipping costs to or from Entrust Datacard, or the location to which Customer is directed by Entrust Datacard to ship any Hardware. Replacement Hardware may consist of both new and used components or may have been previously installed. All Hardware that is replaced becomes the property of Entrust Datacard. Entrust Datacard will not be responsible for Customer’s or any third-party’s software, firmware, information, or data contained in or stored on any returned Hardware, whether under warranty or not.